Dear David and Mark,

I refer to the attached and the various emails sent yesterday.

So in summary nothing has been done on the Planning approval, Costing by quantity surveyors, Architectural, Structural, Hydraulic, Mechanical, Fire or Electrical issues to do with this building in the last 16 ½ weeks.

Further to that none of the issues on the building the receivers advised needed doing regarding occupational safety have been attended to.

The roof leaks advised of months ago have also not been dealt with and there is now water damage to the structural ply roof deck.

My office contains 16 cardboard boxes containing my files that were boxed up in the first week of August and still remain there unopened 3 months later

If there is anything I have missed could you please let me know.

Kind Regards
Sean Butler

Hi Robert,

The Hotel was put on market a few weeks later. They changed us to sell the property!! $343,232

Have you been instructed by anyone yet to update the plans, or to go through the issues involved to price up the Mechanical services at the National Hotel Fremantle?

Regards
